

The Jills Zeder Group hits $2B sales volume mark in 11 months

by Lindsey Wells December 14, 2021

The Jills Zeder Group has surpassed $2 billion in sales for 2021, doubling its numbers from May, according to a press release.

The group is affiliated with Coldwell Banker Realty in Florida, certified Coldwell Banker Global Luxury Specialists and part of the International Luxury Alliance, an exclusive networking group of real estate professionals representing ultra-high net worth buyers and sellers throughout 45 key markets in the U.S. and abroad.

Some of The Jills Zeder Group's sales to date in 2021 have included properties in Indian Creek Island, Gables Estates, Coral Gables, Coconut Grove, Cocoplum, Snapper Creek, Hammock Lakes, Ponce Davis, Pinecrest, Miami Beach, Fisher Island, Star Island, La Gorce Island, Sunset Islands and Palm Beach County.

This year, one of the team's high-profile sales included the waterfront residence at 7081 Fisher Island Dr., belonging to Caroline Wozniacki, formerly the world's No. 2 tennis player, and her husband, David Lee, two-time NBA All-Star. The team also closed on Casa Arboles in Coral Gables, which was owned by husband and wife R. Donahue "Don" Peebles and Katrina Peebles of The Peebles Corporation.

"The Jills Zeder Group consistently sets the benchmark for excellence and superior sales achievement," said M. Ryan Gorman, president and CEO of Coldwell Banker Real Estate. "It is hard to imagine a real estate team surpassing $2 billion in sales in less than a year, but it is no surprise that this team is able to achieve the unthinkable. Their exceedingly impressive success is a testament to their approach to client care, marketing prowess and high-level of business acumen."

With offices in Miami Beach and Coral Gables, The Jills Zeder Group specializes in high-end, multimillion-dollar luxury properties in South Florida.
